Around
the Square

Our better half complained the other day that the old sedan had been carrying around a sinister smell. She wondered if something were wrong with the motor.

We encouraged her in this belief, because the word "garbage" would have got us in bad. Seems we can never remember to get that can down to the road until it is almost too heavy to lift. That's when we load it in the back seat of the old car to get it down the long driveway enroute to work. Trouble is, we sometimes forget to UNload it!

So we drive the darned thing to work without knowing it, roll up the windows when we park, and when we open the car door at the end of a long day the results are—UNPRINTABLE!

The 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Colvin, Carol Ann, has the tendencies of a diplomat if this story is any indication.

Attending a party where her hostess apologized because the crackers were not too fresh, Carol Ann examined one that was slightly limp and exclaimed: "This is nothing! We once ate some potato chips at home that were completely quiet!"

Did you make use of the X-ray wagon that was here Monday and Tuesday? That's a great service the County Health Department performs. If you weren't among the 854 people who had their chests X-rayed, try to catch it next time. Takes all of two minutes.

Those explosions you may hear occasionally—such as last Saturday—are nothing to worry about. The police call them "Coltech noises," in the direction of Azusa. So just relax. Everything's under control.

In a local market the other day we felt suddenly old when a little girl picked up a loaf of bread and examined it in amazement. "What?" she cried. "No slices?"

Can it be true there are people in this world who think unsliced bread is something NEW! (Say it isn't so!)

Time Changes
For Rehearsal
Of Local Band

Rehearsals for the Sierra Madre Concert Band have been changed to Wednesday evenings at 7:30 in the city school auditorium, according to Miss Marie Oliva, director.

Plans are being made for a concert on the fair grounds during the Community Fair in June, according to Al Master, business manager for the band. New members of the band are Sam Bradshaw, Sierra Madre, who has played clarinet with the San Gabriel Symphony Orchestra, and Natalie J. Burt of Arcadia, also clarinet. Miss Burt has been a member of Pomona bands, and the Mount San Antonio College Band.

According to Miss Oliva, there still is room for more musicians. "The greatest need is in the oboe and bassoon sections," she says. "In fact, right at present, there aren't any."

$800 TO POOL FUND

Approximately $800 in profits to be added to the Swimming Pool Fund was made through proceeds of the $10-per-plate dinner April 11, according to Mrs. Stanley Coutant, a member of the Recreation Commission. A last checking of the books was made this week.

THERE'S NOTHING SUBTLE about children when it comes to showing what they want—if there is any truth in the impression gained from the picture above, taken recently at City School. It may be an old axiom that the younger set love it when they are "out of school," such as when good ol' summertime comes 'round—but they would love it less if they were out of schools (facilities, that is) when it comes time again to seek an education. That's why children, as well as parents, in Sierra Madre are hoping the school bond issue will be passed next Tuesday, lest the growth of student population here forces staggered, or part-time classes. Those who posed in the hope of helping the situation are, from left to right, back row: Chip Buckner, Linda Willis, Susan Hartman, and Frank Dane; in front—Tina Bartel and Deena Sorensen.

City Set for Big Vote
On School Bonds Tues.Civic Leaders Urge Yes-Vote
In Tuesday School Election

One of the most important school issues in the history of Sierra Madre comes to a climax next Tuesday. In approach to the voting of the school bond election May 5, citizens throughout the city are still expressing themselves on the subject of why new school housing and facilities are needed.

Representatives of the Los Angeles Schools Office and from the State Division of School House Planning have been consulted and their advice considered. Public meetings through the sponsorship of many civic organizations have been held for the airing of individual opinions and questions.

Now that most of the discussions belong to the past, the News herewith prints what seems to be a majority opinion as expressed individually through some of Sierra Madre's most prominent residents.

(For a map showing where you may vote next Tuesday, consult page 6.)

R. C. Lewis:
"The growth of our city makes it necessary to provide additional school facilities. Never again can we secure such a favorable site as we now can at prevailing prices. Vote yes on school bonds."

Rev. Harley Gibbs Smith Jr.:

"It is imperative that both new grounds and buildings be added in this area to cope with the continued growth. I certainly hope that the bond issue will pass by an overwhelming majority and urge people to vote 'YES' on this momentous question for the future of our Sierra Madre citizens."

Harold F. Roberts:

"The public schools are the bulwark of our American way of life. No matter what the cost, they must be kept adequate to meet the demands of our growing population. I am unqualifiedly in favor of the proposed bond issue."

Rev. Thomas O'Malley:

"We at St. Rita's have expanded our facilities to meet the increased needs of the elementary school children. We wholeheartedly support the public school in the forthcoming bond election to provide a new site and additional classrooms."

Tom Schwartz:
"We must realize (1) that the proposed school property is the last available desirable land; (2) that now is the time to vote for school bonds, while the interest rate is low, for all indications are that rates will not be as favorable in the future."

Rudolph Hartman:

"Our young people are the responsibility of all of us. Don't let our future leaders down by failing to provide them with adequate school facilities. Vote 'YES' on the school bonds."

R. E. Garland Sr.:

"I wish to express my complete endorsement of the school bond vote."

Anne Avon
Lends Eye-Dog
For Movie Role

Anne Avon, 636 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., who recently returned from a month's training with her new "Eye Dog," Rusty, at the Eye Dog Foundation at Azusa, is now lending her guide-companion to MGM Studios to star in a picture with Joan Crawford and Michael Wilding.

Rusty, an 18-month-old boxer female, became the blind girl's protector and "seeing-eye" early this month after the German shepherd, with which he had become an accustomed but always dramatic sight on Sierra Madre streets, was retired because of old age.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer chose Rusty from a list of entrants to serve as Wilding's dog in a picture that portrays the actor as a blind pianist, according to Ed Calder, assistant trainer at Azusa's Eye Dog Foundation who takes Rusty to MGM each day and brings her back to Miss Avon each night.

What does Miss Avon do during the day, while Rusty is gone? She keeps house in a three-room establishment where, besides doing the chores, she keeps busy with a piano and a recording machine. It's her own house, and she says that for the first time in her life—thanks to the training she received at the Eye Dog Foundation under supervision of Head Trainer Stu Weist—she is perfectly capable of managing these maneuvers by herself.

"But only until nightfall," she adds. "When the day is ended I feel the need of Rusty's companionship. That's why MGM delivers my eye-companion back to me each evening."

Controversies Reach New High
With Parallel Lines Repainted

More than 40 persons representing 27 local business establishments attended City Council meeting last night to protest any move the council might be planning to eliminate the angle-parking system in downtown areas.

Controversies pertaining to local parking problems came to a new pitch last week when parallel parking lines in some sections were repainted by order of city officials. Merchants, who previously had been warned by City Council that parallel parking might be an eventual necessity as a traffic safety factor, were alarmed by a rumor that the move indicated a complete change of parking laws.

Many merchants took the floor at the Tuesday night meeting to express themselves in favor of angle parking, regardless of whether the long debated off-street parking lots were made available or not.

Upon questioning the merchants as to their progress in securing property for off-street parking, the Council was told that much work had been done by the parking committee toward the formation of a parking district and that a few local merchants were purchasing Auburn property as an interim step toward the solution of the off-street parking problem.

The merchants asked the Council's help in the formation of the district, but the council reminded the group that it was up to the Parking Committee to petition for a tax assessment district in which at least 60 per cent of the persons asking for such a district should sign their names.

The Council then finally conceded to the merchants' request that angle parking be continued in downtown areas by instructing city attorney Guy Cornyn to present at the next meeting a resolution permitting angle parking in areas previously marked.

Other highlights on the Council's agenda included the discussion of salaries paid to City Hall employees. Mayor Henry F. Kormsmeier came out strongly in favor of raising employees' salaries which he described as being so low that he found it embarrassing to quote them in public.

Although City Council still linked the subject to the problem of retirement pay, of which none now exists, motions were passed that gave new classifications, and resultant pay increases, to several city employees. Among them were Ben Mobley, formerly classified as "Crew Foreman of the Street Department," who gained the title of "General Foreman," and Mrs. Beatrice Thompson, who won the classification of "Stenographer-Secretary."

Of the two police cars operated by the City, the other of which is traded each year, one was replaced through acceptance of the lowest bid by Chevrolet Dealers McDonald and O'Boyle of Monrovia, who made the offer of trading a new car for the old plus payment by the City of $929.73.

Each girl will be nominated by a civic organization, such as the Lions, Kiwanis Club, and Veterans of Foreign Wars in Sierra Madre.

Organizations in nearby towns have evidenced an interest in the five-day carnival inasmuch as part of the profits from the enterprise will go to the organizations operating some of the booths. A number of these organizations will nominate candidates for Queen tomorrow evening, according to officials of the Queen contest.

One club from a nearby town is reported to be inaugurating a new practice by nominating several queens, with the less successful candidates being eliminated progressively as the contest nears its end.

Scoring in the Queen contest also will determine which organizations are to operate "midway" booths during the Fair, highest scorer having first choice.

Money raised through the sale of admission tickets by the Queen candidates from Sierra Madre, and the majority of profits from the five-day carnival, will be added to the Sierra Madre Swimming Pool Fund.

In addition to the Fair, there will be Community breakfast, a parade, and a Soap Box Derby trial race on June 13.

Judge Hoelscher's acquittal decision came on a defense motion that the state had not presented sufficient evidence to convict. No defense testimony was submitted and the defendant did not take the stand.

Crucial point in the argument between Prosecutor Robert O'Maley and the defense attorney was on the defendant's admitted sleepiness at the time of the accident. Jones asserted he had visited his nephew in an air conditioned room just before making the trip from Muncie enroute to Richmond. The contrast of the 100 degree heat and humidity, he said, put him half asleep without his being aware of it.

The judge ruled that evidence had to show the defendant knew he was going to sleep and that he had a criminal intent in his own mind to proceed in spite of that knowledge. Jones has long been known as the first mayor of Sierra Madre, an office he served from 1907 to 1914, and as one of the originators of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter in 1915.

Bowers Is Named New Chairman

Sierra Madre's Planning Commission chose William E. Bowers for its new chairman last Thursday at its annual election and reorganization of the board. He succeeds Mrs. May de Wright.

Mrs. Blanche Buie was turned down again in her proposal to have the old Sierra Madre Hotel property, 225 N. Lima, rezoned to R-3, multiple residential.

Mrs. Buie has proposed to build four bungalow courts on four lots, but the commission has held to the opinion that this would place too many units on property that is now R-1.

The commission approved the zone change requested by Dr. George Groth Jr. to build a medical center at 245 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

ANNE AVON, SIERRA MADRE'S beautiful blind girl, has a new dog, Rusty—an 18-month-old boxer who is very much a lady except when it comes to facing any obstacle in Anne's path that might harm her. That's when Rusty, according to Anne, becomes even more determined than any male could be, in a protective role which she fills so expertly that MGM has given her a star part in a picture with Joan Crawford and Michael Wilding, the latter of whom plays the role of a blind pianist.

ELDERLY SPONSOR OF CHURCH GUILD'S FIRST TOWN BREAKFAST STILL ACTIVE

Miss Daisy E. Hawks, 50 E. Grand View, 83-year-old Sierra Madre pioneer resident, who was president of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension when the May Day Community Breakfast was introduced here 20 years ago, will be among those attending the annual affair again this year.

The pancake breakfast, adopted from an idea brought to Sierra Madre from a small mid-western town by one of the Guild's members a score of years ago, is sponsored now by St. Catherine's Guild of the church which took over the project about 15 years ago. Mrs. Eugene F. Englar, as president of the Guild, is serving as general chairman of the breakfast committee.

Pancakes will be cooked and served from 6 to 10 a.m. tomorrow morning in the Ascension parish hall by women of the guild. The early hour was set especially to accommodate business men and women who are urged to attend before their store and office hours.

The feeling of sociability among the townspeople is particularly encouraged by the sponsoring Guild, feeling it provides a friendly, small-town interlude in the busy-ness of today's living.

Miss Hawks, who was Guild president the year the breakfast first was held, is the aunt of Mrs. Randolph Wood, now active in St. Catherine's Guild and assisting with breakfast plans.

Funds netted from the breakfast will aid the Guild in furthering its philanthropic and church work and in making its usual civic contributions.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO HOUSE RANCH NURSERY SCHOOL

Announcement was made this week that the Trinity Presbyterian Church, 3740 Sierra Madre Blvd., has offered its facilities to the Hastings Ranch Nursery School for location. "We of the Church look forward to this opportunity to cooperate with the community," Rev. Donald H. Ostrander, minister, said in part. For complete story, see the Hastings Ranch page.

"Adam and Fallen Man" Is Text of Christian Science

"Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." This declaration of Paul to the Ephesians (5:14) is the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon, "Adam and Fallen Man" in all Christian Science churches.

The Lesson-Sermon is epitomized in these words of the Apostle Peter (II Peter 1:10, 11): "Wherefore, the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall: For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."

On this subject Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Heaven represents harmony, and divine Science interprets the Principle of heavenly harmony." "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The Kingdom of God is within you'; that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal" (pp. 560, 476).

Christian Science Radio Program on Sunday

"Man's Right to Freedom" will be the subject of a Christian Science program to be given on Columbia's Church of the Air over KNX on Sunday, May 3, at 7 a.m.

The speaker will be Bruce Ludgate Jr. of Philadelphia. The program will be given under the auspices of the Christian Science Committee on Publication for Pennsylvania.

Schaper, formerly of Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C., where he was dean of men and professor of New Testament in the School of Religion. At present he is associated with the Jack Shuler Evangelistic Campaign and has spoken at Bethany Church earlier this year.

Music during this two-day Bible conference will be provided by Mrs. Earle H. Anderson, vocal soloist, and Mrs. Brice Carlson, organist.

ST. RITA'S GUILD FASHION FESTIVAL TO AID IN FURNISHING SCHOOL ROOMS

St. Rita's Guild of St. Rita's Shrine will present its annual Fashion Festival the afternoon of May 9 in the gardens of the George R. Meeker home, 1025 Singing Wood Dr., Rancho Santa Anita and tickets have been available since April 10, according to Mrs. W. F. Maloney, Guild president. For the third year the fashion presentation is being planned and presented by Mrs. Ethel Joutras, fashion co-ordinator and West Coast promotional director for a well-known fabric company. Mrs. Joutras served for six years as executive director for the Affiliated Fashionists of California, and is a former fashion co-ordinator for Marshall Field's in Chicago.

In the coming Fashion Festival she will present professional models wearing originals by such California designers as Peggy Hunt, Irene Bury, Marjorie Montgomery, Juli Lynne Charlet, Marianne De Weese and Herb Latimer. Baptists Elect Officers' Set Budget May 6

The First Baptist Church, 49 S. Baldwin Ave., will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers on Wednesday evening, May 6. All members of the church are strongly urged to attend this very important business session which will see the seating of all new officers and committees.

The highlight of the business session will be the adoption of the first systematically arranged budget. This budget will include new items such as a substantial foreign mission appropriation and another sum for the extension of the new work the state proposes. This latter appropriation will make it possible for the entire Conference fellowship to furnish financial aid and building loans to a total of 17 new fields.

The monthly fellowship dinner will be held on Thursday, May 14, rather than in connection with the annual meeting as suggested.

Curb Pick-Ups Continued In Paper Drive

Sierra Madre's paper drive is still in progress, with curb pick-ups being made every Saturday. Anyone wishing to get rid of old newspapers is asked to tie them in bundles to about ten inches in height. Paper Drive Committeeman Sam Simpson has pointed out that untied papers retard the curb service to such an extent that many more persons are needed than so far have presented themselves in the voluntary work that is being done on behalf of the Swimming Pool Fund.

Persons who do not have sufficient string are asked to call Simpson Cleaners at CU, 5-3183, so that Boy Scout volunteers can deliver cord wherever necessary.

More volunteers are needed to help the group that meets each Saturday at noon in the lot with the large sign next to the Woman's Club, according to Judge Jack Mead, another worker on the Paper Drive Committee. Although local Scout troops are offering to help, more adults are needed to help drive the pick-up cars. People who wish to be rid of their old newspapers before time of pick-ups may leave their own bundles at the lot east of the Woman's Club. Schedule for the pick-ups is as follows:

On the first Saturday in every month the section to be serviced is east of Baldwin, from the mountains south to Orange Grove.

On the second Saturday—from Baldwin west to Michilinda in the area south of Sierra Madre Blvd.

Third Saturday—Coronet Homes. Fourth Saturday—all territory north of Sierra Madre Blvd., from Baldwin west to Michilinda.

Oh happy day! Oh joyful hour! That it should be within your power to vote yes May 5.

PAT MURPHY, 1953 Wisteria Queen and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy, 3820 Hampton Rd., is queen, too, of the men of A Company, 5th Marines, in Korea. "Tops of the pin-ups" is the new title she's been given, according to Bob Watson and Wilfred Gibault Jr., who signed the plea for the company for pictures and a letter, which seems to be already begun.

Globe-Trotting Dentist, Wife, Write From Faraway Places

Dr. J. Stadden Miller, Sierra Madre dentist, and his bride since March 1, the former Mrs. Margaret Lauchlan, are taking a leisurely trip to distant points of varied interest. They sailed March 11 from San Pedro with deluxe passenger accommodations aboard a freighter. Dr. Miller writes descriptively, below, of their first stops in Jamaica and Puerto Rico.

The Fairfield, Montego Bay, Jamaica, B.W.I., April 6, 1953.

"Had a nice, easy, warm 15-knot boat ride—smooth as glass until we got through the canal when some water broke over the bow. All the mates and engineers took Margaret as their own so we enjoyed many special privileges. Seems that no one travels any more until they are bald headed and young girls are like a breath of heaven aboard a freighter."

"San Juan, Puerto Rico—similar to any medium-sized Mexican town. Labor cheap—$1 a day—but all prices higher than in the States. Scrape up enough to open a shop and you've got it made. French, Spanish, English, American and Swiss cafes all use Puerto Rican cooks. Take away a P. R.'s grease and cooking oil and he's lost! Only good meal we got was in a two-by-four crack in the wall run by an English lady from Cleveland who imports her meat direct from the U. S. and does the cooking herself."

No Screens—No English

"No screens in all of Puerto Rico or Haiti—use mosquito netting instead. Continental Hotel in Port-au-Prince has ceilings 20 feet high, doors 17 feet with movable lattice work in them and the door knobs 18 inches off the floor! No one spoke English—tried for two days to get a glass of cold milk with the help of a French-English dictionary. Finally crashed the kitchen, opened the refrigerator and grabbed a quart half full. The cook shrieked, the manager came running and all hell broke loose. Either the stuff was sour or they had the family jewels in that bottle... we didn't get any milk! "Rain forest" in P. R. beautiful—30-foot ferns, jungle, etc., and the other side of the island looked like California in August. No one EVER hurries but even at that the holds that took two and a half days to load at San Pedro were emptied in a day and a half at San Juan—a sad commentary on U. S. boondoggling."

Turbans Come in Handy

"Very colorful, green, lush, beautiful flowers and flowering trees! Everything carried on the head. Really something to see a woman adjust the rag turban on top of her head, bend down with neck bent back to keep the 'cushion' from falling off, and heave a five-gallon can of water up. Heavy loads produce quite a stiff-necked walk. With light loads they peek along like turkey-gobblers. Affluent natives use burros for packing stuff and streets of Port-au-Prince swarm with them."

Puerto Ricans still have quaint belief that autos will break and human bodies will give you drive around 'em—even though 27 have been knocked off since Jan. 1. In Haiti they jump aside, though. Couldn't be worse in Paris! Give a Haitian a horn and accelerator and he's off! Who needs brakes? Only made dogs and Englishmen, etc., down here. We walked one block and by count 11 taxis stopped and honked!"

We're Eating Well!

"Fluorescent ceiling light took three and a half minutes to light after flipping the switch—but excellent meals served in four courses at $7.50 per head per day. No doubt they spoke English at the resort hotels and probably had cold milk, too! One we went through was beautiful—$35 a day and up! No wonder only bald heads travel."

"Jamaica is the best of the lot so far, fewer beggars and peddlers, police respectful in black pants with red stripes, white shirts, black ties, red blouse, white cap, black visor, red band piped in black. We hit the yacht races, complete with Jamaican military band in out-of-this-world musical comedy costumes. The beefy faced and so proper English director sweating in his starched white ducks. Darn good music, though. Blazing white sand, ocean 80 degrees temperature and calm as a swimming pool."

Spurge on Hotel

"This hotel our one splurge—wonderful food, beautifully cooked and served by black Jamaican waiters with impeccable manners and starched linen with all the courtesy and ceremony you'd expect of the very proper British. The silverware threw us! Four knives, four forks and five spoons for a place setting. Try that on your casual California living!"

"The worst beds we've had since leaving home. Golf course 40 paces to the left but too hot to play except early a.m. and late p.m. We arrived in these parts just one month too late for really good weather but one month too early for the off-season rates."

Try Strange Fruits

"Have tried pineapple, mango, paw paw, bananas, grenadilla, starapple, soursop, naseberry, sweet sop, quince, or-tanique, grapefruit and Seville oranges, all good and most of 'em new to us—all fruits. Bananas bring $16 a ton here, $100 a ton in London, and banana workers get five shillings a day (70 cents) and glad to get it. Labor surplus in all the islands. Good housekeepers for $5 to $10 a month! Our taxi driver from airport to hotel, black as the ace of spades, named George Lightbody! A capitalist, I was told by the bell boy, owns two cabs, works for himself and 'doan haf to worry about nickels and dimes!"

"In the back country natives work in the sugar cane, pineapple, tobacco and sugar mills and rum plants for next to nothing, live in 10 by 10 shacks built of whatever happens to be at hand (old lumber, rusty galvanized iron, thatched roofs, rocks and mud, etc.). Keep a pig tethered in their 'front yards' and pay for six years on their electric refrigerators at God knows what rate of interest."

Find Spectators Amusing

"Cock fights seem to be the main recreation—that and procreation—and the fights run every Sunday all day. Was more fun to watch the audience than the two cocks. The fight goes on and on until one cock gives up and either flies out of the ring or just squats down and covers up—quite a bloody affair."

"Try this on your piano: 'King was bowling, with silly midoff and silly midon, three slips, gully, backward square leg, cover and deep fineleg. But after regular Umrigar edged him riskily through slips for four, he dropped Gomez out to third man almost on the boundary. Two girls in dungaree outfits entered the ground and a section of the crowd cheered the girls as they went to their seats. King maidened to Roy and tea was taken with the score 14 2-3: Roy, 58, Umrigar 30 and extra, 1." ... From the Sunday 'Gleaners' account of a cricket match between India and West Indies teams."

On to Washington

"We're going to spend a week in Washington, D. C., and New York City and then take a Cunard liner from Quebec to London and spend about six weeks—The British Isles, Paris, Copenhagen. Will drop you another few lines if we run across anything that might be of interest."

Millie Solury sent us a copy of the NEWS with account of the canyon fire. Read it from cover to cover for the first time in 12 years. Amazing how news from home is so welcome when you're away."

The School Vote: Real - and Property - Values

The proposed location, as well as the forthcoming bond election May 5, for a new elementary school, has been studied and debated for many months. Now that the time approaches for the results to be tabulated in ballots, what is the summing up?

The location of the school is debatable only on the grounds of property values. But the bond issue is related to a far wider field—the need of student housing, regardless of where the location may be.

The latter is a generality that has won the field, because its cause is based upon a formula as simple as that which operates on the theory that two plus two equals four.

With an increase of population, which we have, we also have an increase of children. Therefore, the student housing that was provided 10 or 20 years ago cannot be expected to fulfill present needs—especially when the present is being crowded by the rapidly increasing needs of the immediate future.

It's as simple as that. We must provide more room in which to educate the children, just as we already are providing more subdivisions, more homes, and more facilities-in-general for their parents.

But what about the effect of a new school, at Highland and Canon, upon property values?

According to a local realtor, the first questions asked by clients are: "What kind of a school system do you have? Are you on double sessions?"

The answers affect property values for the entire community. Clients are not interested in buying in a school district with admittedly inadequate housing facilities.

A realtor has cited as an example the new Arcadia school, where there has been no property devaluation, even though there is no protective planting between the playgrounds and adjoining lots. Plans for the Sierra Madre unit include protective planting and an adequate set-back to insure as much privacy as possible. Property directly across the street from the main entrance might be inversely affected, some claim, but a survey indicates that the proposed location affects as few property owners in this way as any available site that can be found in the school district.

A Pasadena appraiser who has studied property values in Los Angeles County for many years, has stated: "There are always buyers seeking homes close to a school."

So it appears in the present struggle to house the millions of school children, a good school system with adequate housing definitely affects property values—by increasing them.

It also appears, with as solid a conviction as two plus two equalling four, that once the need of a new school exists—and once the best possible site has been chosen—there can be no stopping the YES vote to a bond issue.

Provided, of course, that the people of the community care about the children.

Do you?

Search For Happiness . . .

(By DR. ROY O. GILBERT)

The search for happiness is as old as mankind. Not all people realize that happiness, like unhappiness, can become a matter of habit or that health and happiness are closely related. The truth of the matter is, however, that it is difficult to be happy unless healthy and if persistently "in the dumps" over something or other, physical well-being, sooner or later, will be adversely affected.

It has long been recognized that happiness or peace of mind is a thing that grows from within us. Unfortunately it isn't anything that can be obtained in some easy superficial way. The capacity to meet the ordinary stresses of life, the ability to rise above the petty annoyances and disappointments that seem to occur without end, plus all the other negative happenings that take such a heavy toll in our lives marks the emotionally mature person. But it is worth the effort. To acquire himself creditably in this business of living is surely one of the greatest satisfactions the individual can know.

Work, intelligently used leisure time, and good living habits are essential. Irritability, inefficiency, insecurity, unhappiness for oneself — and too often for others—frequently occur because of such apparently simple things as lack of sleep, poor eating habits, and empty hours which can raise havoc with both mental and physical health if allowed to continue.

"Do the best you can, and leave the rest to God." This simple statement has been made many times and remains one of the best prescriptions for richness in living available to us. And truly the Greeks were matched in profundity by the person who first said, "Happiness is a way of life." What better time to start now?

The Bridle Path Lament . . .

Mrs. Arthur C. Bohart, new president of Sierra Madre's P-TA, who lives at 615 Edgeview Dr., is not the only one in the community concerned with the proposed location of the Sierra Madre link in Los Angeles County's bridle trail system, but she is the only one to express her opinion in verse—at least, so far.

The field is still wide open for local rhymesters who care to agree, or disagree.

Who are we? the lowly residents
In light of the "Chosen Few"
Who'll ride from Double Drive
Over Carter and along Edgeview.

Look at our advantages
From such a proclamation,
Without worry about its ration.

Let's have a hamburger concession,
With a barker bun or two.
And where to put the rest havens
To enhance our precious view.

Oh, we will bow our lowly heads,
So the dust from the holy hooves,
Can cleanse and purify our lungs
And settle on our roofs.

According to the law, a bride path
Is judged the same as a street.
And could a child who might get hurt,
Collect insurance from the horses feet?

I'm sure the mounted on the mounts
Don't worry about the leavings,
From whence would come the flies
And perfume to cheer our quiet evenings.

So far The Fathers of the Retreat,
Claim no signing of the condemnation.
But according to the County,
There just isn't any other location.

What's the matter with the mountains,
Or Angeles Forest? Or maybe it is true,
The riders really do prefer
Our patio suppers for nature's view.

Oh well, who are we to gripe.
Our investments are so minute.
When compared to the royal mounts,
Our complaints aren't worth a toot.

Newlywed George Baker Lloyds Will Be At Home Here After May 15th

Wearing an heirloom gown of antique satin and rose point lace, Dorothy Dahl Latham of Rosemead, became the bride of a Sierra Madreen, Gordon Baker Lloyd, in a ceremony Monday night in Forest Lawn's Little Church of the Flowers. The wedding gown had belonged to an aunt of the bride and was fashioned in Paris 80 years ago.

Honeymooning now at Lake Tahoe, the newlyweds, both widely known in television and radio circles, and associated together in that field, will be at home to their friends after May 15 at 268 Sierra Madre Blvd., where Mr. Lloyd has been living for the past year.

The wedding service was read by Dr. A. V. Havens of the Glendale Christian church. John Lambert, soloist, sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Harold F. Dahl of Alhambra.

WHO WILL BE THE FIELD QUEEN CANDIDATE for the Sierra Madre Community Fair? Blue Birds Off To Good Start On Sale

The Campfire Peanut Sale in which the Blue Bird troop at Field School is participating got off to a most successful start last week, according to Mrs. Don Wilson who is in charge of that activity. By the week's end she reported that the girls had already turned in $50 from their sales.

"I wish to thank all of the residents in the ranch for their wonderful cooperation in assisting the girls in this sale. They have been most understanding and gracious when these 8- and 9-year-old girls have come to their doors in making their calls for the sale," Mrs. Wilson said. She also mentioned that if any of the residents who were not at home when the girls called and wished to buy cans of the Circus peanuts, or those who wished to order more would please call her at Custer 5-1665, she would be happy to send one of the Blue Bird members to their home with the order.

The sale is to raise money for the Camp Fire Girl's new lodge at Camp Chiquita at the north end of Fair Oaks Ave. in Pasadena. A gift of $8000 by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ladd Gifford of Pasadena was received this last year—enough to complete three-quarters of the building, and the girls, Camp Fire and Blue Birds of San Gabriel Valley area, are going to pay for the remainder from this sale. The sale ends May 3.

Residents' Appearance At Zone Meeting Urged

The Pasadena Board of City Directors last week set May 5 at 10:30 a.m. as the date they will take formal action on the City Planning Commission's recommended denial of Consolidated Engineering's proposed "Instrument Park."

The meeting is in the regular procedure followed by the city government in such matters, the Board of City Directors' recommendation being final.

Presidents of the various property organizations in the Hastings Ranch and Sierra Madre Villa district are advising residents of the area to make every effort to attend the May 5th Board meet. "The objections as presented to the Planning Commission at their recent meeting, when more than 100 property owners appeared and expressed their thoughts, should also be heard by the

The Camp Fire Girls enjoyed a very interesting and unusual outing last Tuesday. The members took a "tour" through a candy factory. Plans are now being made by the group for their Mother's Day party.

A teacher from Wilson High School recently visited the sixth grades at Eugene Fields School. She explained about the six-hour classes that are held at Wilson and John Marshall High Schools and had the pupils fill out their registration forms for the coming year in high school.

The bike racks at Fields School have been enlarged to accommodate additional bikes. Also in the bike department: reflectors have been put on all the bikes at Fields.

Ranch Children Show Hobbies On TV Show

Billy and Patty Shier, 3600 Hampton Rd., were guest stars on the Uncle Archie TV show, Channel 4, last Thursday evening. The two very artistic children displayed their hobbies. Billy, a Cub Scout, showed the viewers his little model train and his coin collection. Uncle Archie also told about Billy's stamp collection which wasn't shown. Patty displayed her ceramic pieces, a beautiful display of the little lady's work.

The announcement was made in joint statements by Rev. Donald H. Ostrander, minister of Trinity Church, and Mrs. Charles E. Cowen Jr., president of the Board of Nursery School.

"It is with pleasure that I am able to announce at the regular meeting of the Board of Sessions of the Trinity Presbyterian Church that it was unanimously voted to offer the facilities of the Church to the Hastings Ranch Nursery

Ranch Couple Enjoys Trip To Death Valley

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tinucci, 3670 Greenhill Rd., spent a weekend recently at Death Valley. They report that the weather was ideal, and that their trip came at the peak of the wild flowers. "Between Tona and Victorville, on highway 395, we saw the most breathless sight we have ever experienced—carpets of desert flowers," Mrs. Tinucci says.

The Tinuccis visited Scotty's Castle, had dinner there, and talked to Scotty—"a real experience." While in the valley, they stayed at Furnace Creek Ranch. The inn there was entirely taken over by MGM who was "shooting" a desert picture in the vicinity, another exciting part of the Tinucci's trip—seeing the movie in its early beginnings.

Playhouse Set For Laughter In Hit Play

Volleys of laughter will signal the arrival of "Mister Roberts" at the Pasadena Playhouse tonight, when the record-breaking smash hit by Thomas Heggen and Joshua Logan tells the story of a young naval lieutenant who fights to go to war while his fanatic commanding officer fights to hold him back.

Alex Nicol, leading man of stage and screen and long-time member of the Broadway "Roberts" cast, dons lieutenant's bars for the top role.

Jack Pierce, also from Broadway, directs an outstanding supporting cast which includes Lewis Martin, Robert Nichols, Joseph Mell, Roy Wilkie, and others.

boys of eligible age at Don Benito, a very active father's committee, and great cooperation between the parents and the Den Mothers, Mrs. Wilton Stewart, Mrs. Harry Wolff, Mrs. Howard Horn, Mrs. Arthur Shipman, and Mrs. Fred Hoffine. Mrs. Horn is Den Mother Chairman.

During their first six months Pack 3 received more publicity than any other pack in the San Gabriel Valley Council. After their organization last October, the pack received city-wide recognition for the toy Loan Drive in December, gave a Blue and Gold banquet in February, and a Hawaiian Luau last Friday night, with Hawaiian wrestling, native war dances, and Hawaiian songs.

The Cub Scouts vote three grand howls for committee chairman Howard Horn, assistant cubmasters Andy Anderson and Fred Hoffine, Secretary Roland Whited, Treasurer John Wallace, Institutional Representative Delbert Miller, Publicity Chairman Art Shipman, and Transportation Chairman Jerry Suich. The committee votes another grand howl for Audrey Goodwin, Dale Sandro, Church Cole, and Christine Pruitt who nobly served on the Ideas Committee; and to Den Chiefs Jerry Page, Ralph MacDonald, Phillip Jenkins, and Tommy Archibald, all from the Sierra Madre Boy Scouts.

Plans for the fifth annual National Kids' Day to be held September 26 are discussed by Walter J. L. Ray, president, Kiwanis International, and Jimmie Eiler, president of the National Kids' Day Foundation. MRS. ROBERT ORDIN STARS OFFSTAGE AS PIANIST IN ALTADENA PLAY

Mrs. Robert L. Ordin, 1135 Hastings Ranch Dr., plays an unseen role in the cast of an original play, "Reprieve from Darkness," presented this week through May 2 at the William Davies Memorial Hall, Farnsworth Park, in Altadena by the Community Players group, "Theatre Americana."

In the production written by Evelyn Neuenburg, Mrs. Ordin, who is a pianist and teacher, plays the piano role off-stage representing that of a concert pianist, played on the stage by Felix Modjeska. The play tells the story of a musician who makes his return to the concert stage after having given up his career because of his wife's mental condition.

Mrs. Ordin holds degrees in piano and music theory from the University of Michigan, where she remained as a vocal coach and accompanist for two years. She held a similar post at U.S.C. while doing graduate study in the School of Music there. She then joined the county-sponsored Guild Opera Company of Los Angeles, headed by Dr. Carl Ebert, until her marriage in 1951 to Robert L. Ordin, a Los Angeles attorney. Mrs. Ordin was a member of the master class of the world-famed Artur Schnabel in 1945 and made her debut as an accompanist in Carnegie Hall, New York, in 1948.

Members of the Nursery School are continuing in their efforts to raise the $3000 necessary to open the school doors in September. The sum will provide for necessary fences, playground equipment, changing over existing plumbing conditions in the church to meet the specifications for a nursery school, and study materials.

Information regarding school policy, and application for enrollment, will be made available in the near future, according to Mrs. Cowen. Until then, queries are being accepted by Mrs. Robert Farmer, CU. 5-2729 or Mrs. Lewis J. Ross, CUster 5-2514.

Playhouse In New Amateur Act Courses

Breaking a 35-year tradition, the Pasadena Playhouse College of Theatre Arts opens its facilities to non-professionals April 28 with an evening course in acting and play production.

First of a projected series of extension courses for amateur and part-time students of the theatre, the course is designed for anyone over 30—housewives, businessmen, community theatre players—desirous of acquiring public speaking abilities and social presence, as well as extending their acting talents.

Philip Cary Jones, veteran of 31 years in the American theatre, will direct the new acting production course. He has acted and directed on Broadway, has worked in films, radio, and television, and has taught theatre on both coasts.

Complete information may be obtained from Margot Poley, registrar at 39 S. El Molino Ave., Pasadena.

The American Cancer Society is financing the training of 75 young doctors in diagnosis and treatment of cancer. A contribution to the 1953 ACS crusade will help support this work.

Board members," Mr. Robert Meserve, president of the Hastings Ranch Property Owner Organization, pointed out last week. "We also wish to make it understood with them that we are not in favor of a variance or similar measure to change the zoning of this land," he went on to say.

The land in question is that adjacent to Consolidated Engineering's present plant on Sierra Madre Villa, at present zoned as R-2 (multiple dwelling). The City Planning Commission's recent denial of the rezoning request which would change the property to that for industrial and commercial use, was denied on the basis that it would leave the acreage open to manufacturing uses other than that of precision instruments.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Here's a typically easy-to-make mirror shot that tells a terrific story at a glance.

"Mirror, Mirror on the Wall . . ."

WHETHER mirrors are on the wall, or on a dressing table or in some other place, small children usually find them fascinating. They view themselves, particularly for the first time, with wonder and amazement. The same holds true for household pets. And this natural situation adds up to an opportunity for making snapshots that are unusual and which can be highly effective. In fact, mirror shots are often so interesting that some people have the idea that they must either be difficult to do or require considerable experience and special equipment. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

With one exception, it's just like any other indoor picture taking.

The exception lies in how you figure the distance in order to determine exposure. When photographing your subject's reflection in a mirror, the distance becomes the sum of the distance from your camera to the subject and from the mirror to the subject.

You can use either photoflash or photo flood lamps for your illumination, but if small children or pets are your subject, you'll probably want to use the faster, more convenient flash method.

You can do this with a simple camera. But if you are using an adjustable type, you should use the smallest lens opening in order to achieve the greatest depth of field and bring the reflection of your subject into sharp focus.

The subject possibilities of mirror-shooting are unlimited as are the possibilities for creating both familiar and dramatic situations. I have been talking largely about using babies, small children, and pets in such pictures. But that doesn't mean you should neglect adults. For example, a pretty girl with a new hat is an ideal subject. With a reflection in the mirror picture, she can see exactly how it looks from both front and back.

Morris Yasskins Hosts At Reception After Son's Bar-Mitzvah

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Yasskins, 391 Auburn, were hosts to approximately 185 friends and relatives Saturday at a buffet luncheon and reception in the Foothill Jewish Community Center following bar-mitzvah services for their son, Philip. The service and subsequent celebration came just one week after Philip's 13th birthday and on the first birthday of the Yasskins' daughter, Karen.

Dr. Charles W. Steckel conducted the confirmation service. Following the service Philip, the guest of honor, was presented many gifts and luncheon was served from a handsomely appointed, candle-lit table. The centerpiece was an enormous cake in the shape of a book, representing the Bible. It was decorated with roses and the Star of David and inscribed with birthday greetings to Karen and congratulations to Philip. The entire color scheme for the party was in blue and white.

The paternal and maternal grandparents of the young guest of honor were among the guests. They are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Yasskin of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rosner of North Hollywood. All of the guests were from Sierra Madre and the Los Angeles area.

POSTURE IS IMPORTANT
"Bank balance" and how to improve it is a subject which never fails to get attention. Another type of balance which is increasingly recognized as being important in relation to "bank balance" is "body balance" or correct posture. Correct posture is important to health and is as essential as a comfortable bank balance is to the enjoyment of life. Without health even a bulging bank balance cannot make life very enjoyable. Better health is one of the surest ways to higher earnings; bad body balance or poor posture undermines good health and assurance of sustained earnings.

A healthy bank balance indicates initiative, intelligence and thrift. Good body balance indicates the possessor's awareness of his most valuable physical assets, and his intelligence and thrift in safeguarding them. Being physically balanced and poised by habit, he finds these qualities carrying over into his mental and emotional life. Disasters and illness which find others off balance and poorly prepared, he meets with equilibrium and poise, a minimum of sickness or disease.

The individual who practices body balance and poise will not permit his desire for bank balance to get out of focus and drive him relentlessly to excessive work, nervous and muscular tension, occupational distortions and finally to bent and twisted physical and mental breakdown. Practicing good posture by habit he is on the lookout for signs of tension which would disturb his balance such as a twisted tilt of the head and neck, the drooping and rounder shoulders, the curved spine, the high hip, the short leg, and the twisted knee or foot. The least sign of unbalance he realizes calls for immediate correction and alert and habitual attention.

When body balance becomes body unbalance organic disorders may follow. This is a direct threat to the bank balance which has no greater enemy than sickness which causes time lost from work in addition to doctors and hospital bills. Current expenses continue on with monotonous regularity whether one is on the job or convalescing off the job.

This dreary prospect need not cause alarm for usually poor posture CAN be corrected by the individual who will use average will power and intelligence and seek counsel comparable to what he would ask regarding a business condition which threatened his bank balance.

This is not an attempt to overstate the importance of body balance but rather to correctly evaluate something which is too often overlooked. Next week we will list the consequences of some of the effects of poor body balance.

Larry Trotters Move To Northridge; Seattle Visitors Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Galkin, 110 E. Mira Monte, had as their guests for three weeks recently their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Galkin of Seattle, and their two children, Andrea and Maria. During their visit here Maria's sixth birthday was celebrated at a party to which the neighborhood children were invited.

On their return trip to Seattle the couple visited with friends and relatives in San Francisco and Chico, Calif., and Portland, Ore.

The Rudolph Galkins' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Trotter and their infant son, Michael, who have been making their home in Sierra Madre with the Galkins, moved recently into their newly-built home at 18631 Chase, Northridge, Calif. Mrs. Trotter is the former Joan Galkin.

Never underestimate the power of a vote.

OPEN HOUSE

struction periods are in progress, so that they may become better acquainted with teaching methods and programs at City School.

Prominent among those who have expressed themselves concerning the spirit of "Public School Week" are Knox Hagar, Kiwanis president, in a letter to School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt; and Raymond B. Pease, who describes the address delivered by Dr. Edward Rowins, personnel director of Pasadena City Schools, in an appearance at the Masonic Temple last Friday evening.

From Knox Hagar:

It is a pleasure for the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club to join with you, the Parent-Teachers Ass'n and other organizations, in the observance of Public Schools Week.

We believe that boys and girls, who become morally, spiritually, physically and mentally strong, are the hope of the future, and that we can best serve youth through positive programs that will emphasize the values of our American heritage.

We urge that not only the parents and those connected with the schools, but the whole community pause at this time to consider how important a part the public school system is of our lives and that of our state and nation, and resolve to ever keep it a free American institution, responsible to the will of the people, and serving equally all children, irrespective of the wealth, creed or color of their parents.

From Raymond Pease:

Those who attended the address on "Our Public Schools" by Dr. Edward Rowins last Friday evening heard one of the best presentations of the subject of our time. The speaker, in pointing out the need of an informed public, stated that much of the wild criticism that has disturbed many of our cities was due to lack of sound information.

For that reason, many were excited over the charges brought by radical pessimists, special interests, and groups that would throttle the people's control of the educational process. There are several things, he stated, that the individual voter can do about present problems: first, to seek for sound information; secondly, to make contacts with the schools and teachers; and, thirdly, to vote for the best candidates for the school boards, and thus insure the safety of public education.

He quoted from some of our greatest American leaders to show their support for free public schools, notably Thomas Jefferson: "If a nation expects to be ignorant and free in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be."

Quoting from the poem, "Building a Temple," the speaker emphasized the idea that the Temple reared by the teacher may well be the noblest structure man can raise; "that spiritual temple, that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

National Maritime Day is May 22. It honors the American shipping industry.
